Cycling as Anchor Driver

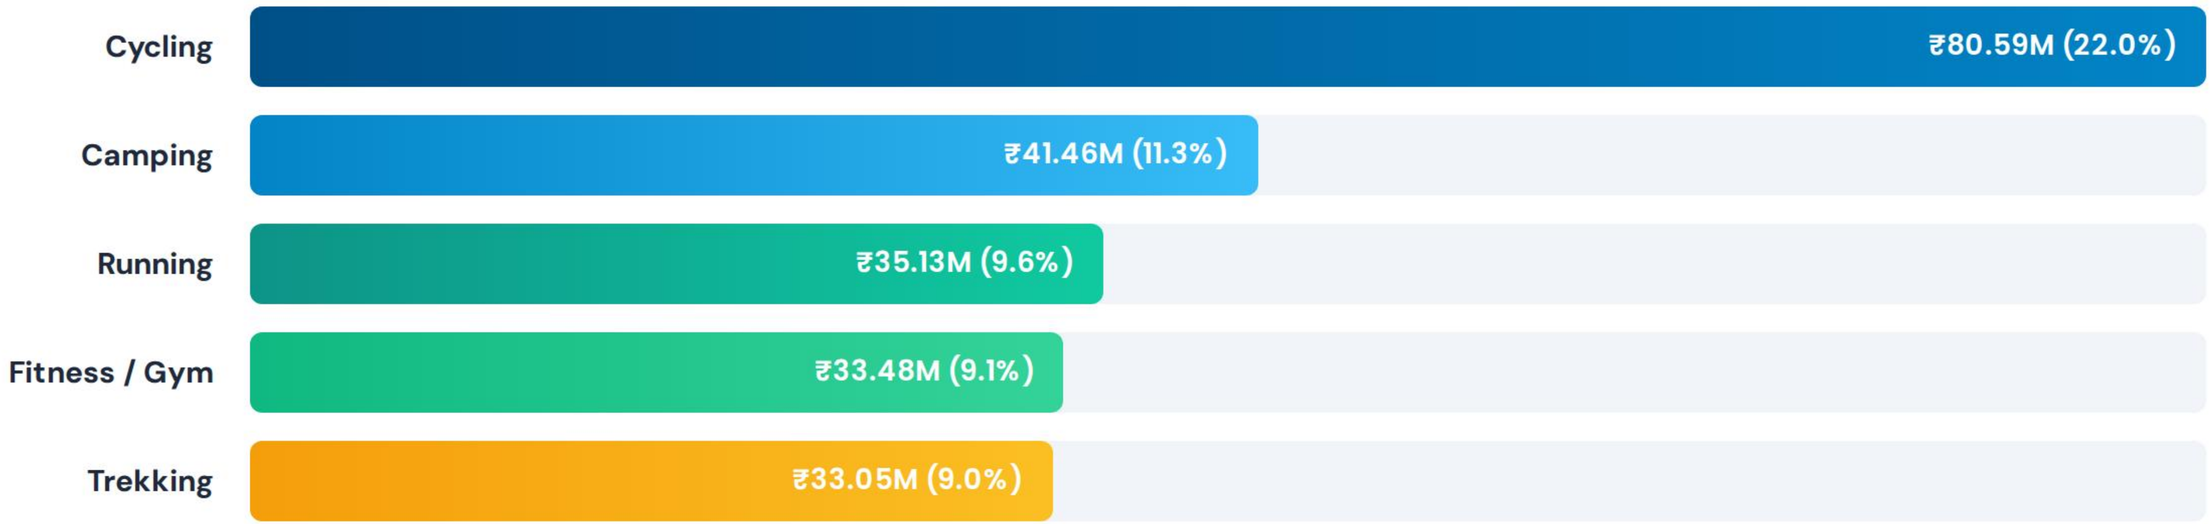

Disproportionate Revenue Contributor

Cycling emerged as the single largest category, generating ₹80.59M in gross sales and ₹25.49M in profit—contributing 22% of total retail turnover.

High-ticket products like Mountain Bikes drove exceptional basket valuations and anchored customer acquisition for related equipment lines.

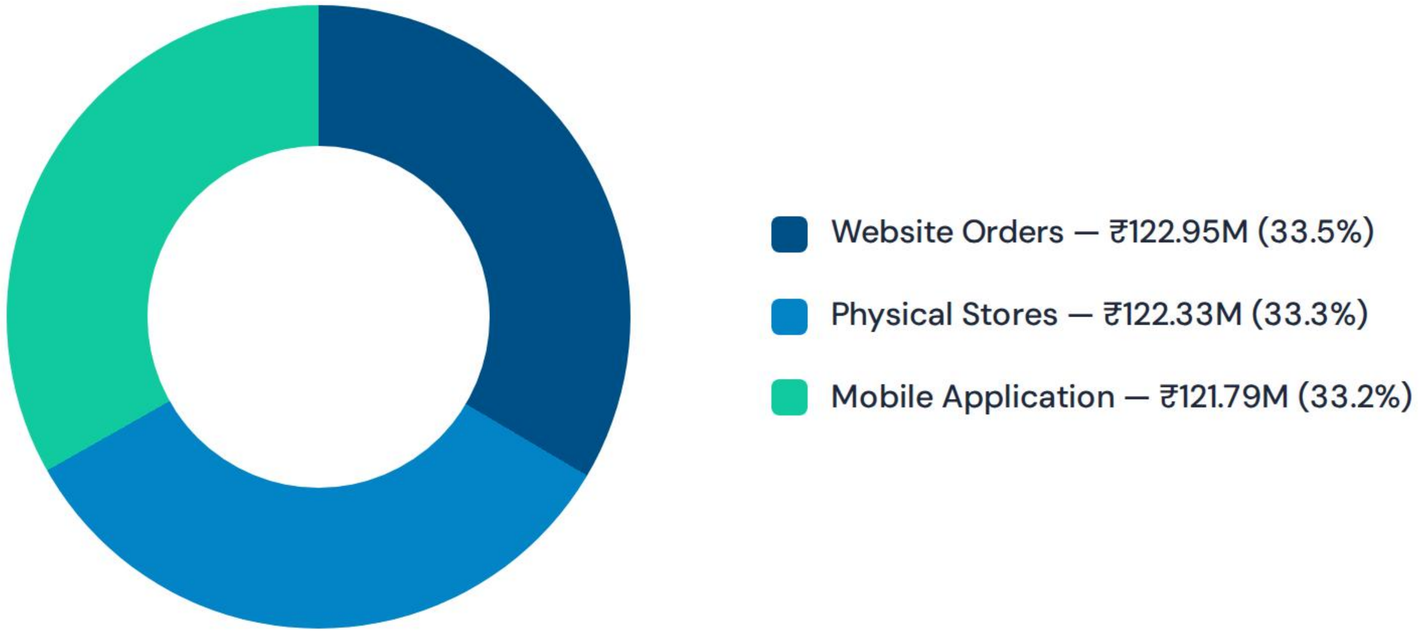

Top Revenue Categories

Key Observation: Outdoor adventure sports (Cycling, Camping, Trekking) constitute nearly 43% of total revenue. Strategic cross-selling of apparel with outdoor equipment presents an untapped basket-expansion opportunity.

Omni-Channel Equilibrium

Channel Synergy: Sales volume is evenly distributed across physical retail, mobile apps, and web storefronts, indicating cohesive cross-channel brand presence without channel conflict or customer cannibalization.

Customer Segment Dynamics

Returning & Loyal Base

₹276.07M (75.2%)

The core commercial backbone is driven by repeat engagement. Returning customers alone accounted for ₹164.61M (44.8%), while enrolled Loyal members generated ₹111.46M (30.4%) across repeat order cycles.
Prioritizing retention-driven lifecycle flows delivers 3.1x higher lifetime revenue compared to standalone one-time buyer acquisition programs.

First-Time Acquisition

₹91.01M (24.8%)

New customer acquisition delivered steady inbound volume with 7,385 initial orders. Introductory seasonal campaigns (e.g., New Year Fitness, Back to Sports) served as primary discovery entryways. Transitioning these first-time buyers into the membership ecosystem within 60 days of purchase represents the single largest margin lever.
